Biography

Howard B. Dean, MD, was born in New York City on November 17, 1948. He graduated from St. George's in Newport, RI in 1966. He received his B.A. at Yale University in 1971 and his M.D. at Albert Einstein College of Medicine in 1978. He then moved to Burlington and commenced his residency at Medical Center Hospital. He married Judith Steinberg, a fellow student at Einstein, in 1981. They live in Shelburne and have two children.

Dean first became involved in politics in 1980 while volunteering his services to Jimmy Carter's re-election campaign. This experience led to other political connections and Dean became chairman of the Chittenden County Democratic Committee. In 1982, he ran successfully for the VT House and was re-elected in 1984, serving as assistant minority leader. He ran for Lt. Governor in 1986 and won. He served as Lt. Governor from 1987 - August 14, 1991 when he was sworn in as Vermont's acting governor on the death of Governor Richard A. Snelling. He was subsequently elected to five additional terms as Vermont's governor. Dean is presently pursuing the Democratic presidential nomination (2003).

Governor Dean was a strong advocate for equality and human rights. He signed into law several controversial bills such as Act 60 (1997), the Education Funding/Property Tax Reform Bill, and Act 91 (2000), the Civil Union Bill. An advocate for the environment, Dean was a leader in founding the VT Youth Conservation Corps and the Long Trail Protection Fund. He was also a strong voice in the state's acquisition of the Champion Lands in the Northeast Kingdom and in maintaining AMTRAK's "Vermont" commuter rail service.

SCOPE & CONTENT

Governor Dean's records total 320 cubic feet, of which 170 cubic feet are open and 150 cubic feet are closed under Executive Privilege until January 2013. A governor's ability to restrict access to records through executive privilege was established in Killington, Ltd. v. Lash (February 16, 1990). The Archives ability to accept restricted records was clearly enumerated in Act #186 of 1990. (See 3 V.S.A. §117 (a) (2)). Because of the limited space available at the State Archives, the closed records are currently stored at the Division of Public Records.

This finding aid describes the open records, which cover Dean's administration from 1991-2003. The open records primarily show the interaction between Dean and his constituents. They show much more about the concerns of Vermonters in general and their expectations of the role of government and the governor, than about the inner workings of the governor's office.

The records are arranged according to their original order as transferred by the Governor's office. They are primarily arranged according to the structure of Vermont state government, i.e. the Executive Department, the General Assembly, state agencies and departments, and the Judiciary. There are also records concerning the Federal Government and national organizations (in several of which Dean was quite active). Subject files are included within the agency/department to which they apply. For example, VT Yankee files are found under the Department of Public Service. The contents of each folder remain generally in the original order and the folder titles or subject headings remain as originally given by the governor's staff.

The Executive Dept. records (53 cubic feet) consist of Executive Orders, Proclamations, Be-It-Remembered's (appointments), Pardons, and correspondence files of Boards, Commissions and Councils. The Executive Dept. files also include general correspondence to and from Governor Dean and his constituents. There are greetings of various content (birthdays, anniversaries, retirement, congratulations, thank-you letters, etc.). The Governor's Information Referral Office (GIRO) records, similar to those of previous governors' Action Line files, contain correspondence from constituents with specific concerns, some seeking advice and referral to appropriate agencies. There are three cubic feet of files labeled NRN (No Response Necessary) that consist of incoming correspondence, sometimes flattering, occasionally not, of no apparent need for response.

Other significant subjects include the Agency of Development & Community Affairs, the Agency of Human Services, the Agency of Natural Resources, and the Agency of Transportation. The Agency of Development & Community Affairs files document Vermont's rapid growth and the lack of housing to support it, efforts to create new employment opportunities, and to promote Vermont as a business-friendly environment. Agency of Human Services records show how Vermonters have been helped by Human Service programs, or have been failed by the system. The records relate to child care, child support, nursing homes, the correctional system, health care reform, health insurance, alcohol and drug abuse, and hunger. The Agency of Natural Resources records document efforts to balance environmental concerns with increased growth and pollution, elimination of leg-hold traps, and land acquisitions for recreational use. Dean's interest in Vermont's transportation system is evident in the Agency of Transportation files. The records provide insight into the Governor's views on by-pass routes and circumferential highways, as well as alternative commuter transportation.

The Judiciary files may contain correspondence received prior to, during, and after the signing of Act 91 (2000), the Civil Union bill, enacted in response to the Supreme Court's decision in Baker vs. State (98-032, 1999). This bill extended certain rights to homosexual couples previously enjoyed only by heterosexual couples.

The federal government records contain correspondence between Dean and Vermont's U.S. Senators, Representative and various federal agencies, as well as correspondence on federal laws, immigration and national emergency procedures.

These records can be accessed by either perusing the following box/folder list or by looking at the "Central Files Guide" (see attached). The box/folder list is also in an Access database, which can be easily searched.
